Today's Collect - Lord of creation, whose glory is around and within us: open our eyes to your wonders, that we may serve you with reverence and know your peace at our lives' end, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Post Communion - Almighty God, you have taught us through your son that love is the fulfilling of the law: grant that we may love you with our whole heart and our neighbours as ourselves; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Dear Everyone,

Thank you to everyone who organised and supported our Macmillan Coffee Morning last week. It raised £270.

This Saturday our curate, Revd Moji, is being ordained priest at St Andrew's Church, Basildon. We thank you for Moji. Please do hold her in your prayers as she begins this new phase of her ministry.

Moji has asked me to let those who are attending her ordination that she will be providing a sandwich lunch for you to eat following the service.

On Saturday afternoon, at 4pm, it is Forest Church in Bulphan Churchyard, when we will be celebrating the life of St Francis and worshipping round a fire. Do come along and join in if you are able to. Forest Church is a fun way to worship and is suitable for all ages.

And, this Sunday, at 10am, Moji will be presiding at communion in Orsett Church, for the first time. This service will be following by celebratory nibbles, cake and drinks. Do come along to this service to show your support for Moji.

Don't forget that Link to Hope Christmas Shoebox leaflets are available in all three churches and filled shoeboxes need to be returned to church by the end of October.

I look forward to seeing you soon and please continue to let me know of any prayer or pastoral needs.

Take care and God bless,

Sue

Use Your LOAF!

LOAF stands for food which is:
Locally produced, Organically grown, Animal friendly and Fairly traded.

CEL asks churches to follow one or more of these principles when planning any communal meal. Bread is full of symbolic meaning for Christians. Jesus blessed and broke bread and gave it to his disciples saying, 'Do this in remembrance of me.'

In St John's Gospel Jesus described himself as 'the bread of life.'

When you next eat together can your church adopt some of CEL's LOAF principles? Use your LOAF to make a difference!

Experience the world as never before!

Visit Gaia at Chelmsford Cathedral this October.

Visitors to Chelmsford Cathedral this autumn will be able to experience an astronaut's view of the world when the stunning 'Gaia' artwork comes to Essex for the first time.

Measuring six metres in diameter and created from 120dpi detailed NASA imagery of the Earth's surface, 'Gaia' provides the opportunity to see the planet in its entirety as it slowly revolves in the nave of Chelmsford Cathedral, accompanied by a surround-sound composition by BAFTA award winning composer Dan Jones.

'Gaia' is hosted by Chelmsford Cathedral and will open to the public on 12th October and every day until Sunday 30th October.

It has been brought to the city with the support of Essex County Council's Climate Action Fund and Anglia Ruskin University who will feature Gaia as part of their first annual Chelmsford Science Festival.

Gaia will be open for visitors during the day and on selected evenings. During this time local environmental and eco organisations have been invited to provide interactive displays to encourage us to think about ways to protect our planet.

In addition, visitors will be able to enjoy live music, talks and an evening of yoga against the spectacular backdrop of Gaia. There will also be lots of opportunity for children to enjoy Gaia especially at ARU's Family Science Day on 15th October and fun half-term arts and crafts activities from 24th – 28th October.

Looking forward to welcoming the Gaia installation in the autumn, the Dean of Chelmsford, the Very Revd Nicholas Henshall commented: "This is a very exciting project for Chelmsford – for the Cathedral, the city and the county. The Cathedral is a remarkable space and will enable everyone to experience Gaia close up in a very powerful way. And whilst there will be events and regular worship during Gaia, we really want people simply to share in the stillness of this special place during this unique installation."

Keith Baggs, Chief Operating Officer, Chelmsford Cathedral, added: "We're delighted to announce this carefully curated programme which we hope will allow everyone to enjoy this wonderful art installation. As a Gold Eco Church award holder, Gaia is a unique opportunity for Chelmsford Cathedral to invite the public to reflect on the important part each one of us can play to protect the planet."

As Chelmsford Cathedral expects to welcome a large number of visitors during Gaia's installation, they will be offering timed-entry tickets. Entry during the day is free and there is a small charge to visit in the evening when Gaia will be beautifully illuminated and the Cathedral lit by candlelight.

Tickets to special events will be limited and organisers advise early booking. All tickets can be booked from Thursday 1st September via the Chelmsford Cathedral website, www.chelmsfordcathedral.org.uk/gaia.

Have you put your heating on yet? Maybe just wear a jumper around the house instead?
Why not have an extra blanket on the bed of an evening to keep toasty at night and then set a timer for the heating to come on in the morning.
